Commemorative Bricks

John's Pass Boardwalk & Bell Tower

The City of Madeira Beach is home to John's Pass Village & Boardwalk, a unique shopping and entertainment district with retail shopping, a variety of restaurants, fishing charters, casino, dolphin and sight-seeing cruises, boat rentals, parasailing. Over the last seven years, the City of Madeira Beach has made significant improvements to the infrastructure in John's Pass Village, including the John's Pass Boardwalk & Bell Tower.

The City rebuilt the entrance to the John's Pass Boardwalk with a new bell tower funded through the Commemorative Brick Program. The tower is dedicated to the memory of the hundreds of central west Florida fishermen who lost their lives at sea. The Commemorative Brick Program is an on-going funding source to ensure the tower and entrance are maintained in the future.

In addition to the Commemorative Brick Program, a fundraising campaign is underway to build a fitting lost at sea memorial at the John's Pass Boardwalk & Bell Tower, surrounded by the commemorative bricks.

Additional Information about the "Florida Fishermen Lost at Sea Memorial" is available at www.floridafishermenlostatsea.com.
